LAMP Changes Lives!

Monterey Park has been cited as one of the most diverse cities in the country. It is a gateway community for many immigrants to the U.S., particularly new arrivals from Asia. Many Asians begin their integration into the community at the Monterey Park Bruggemeyer Library. The LAMP Program vision is that all community members would have an awareness of the services and opportunities available to them through American institutions such as our library that offer exposure to culture and services; as well as gain the confidence and motivation to access these programs and become a part of them.

Goals of the LAMP Literacy Program are: 1) to increase literacy levels of 70% of our learners, 2) to identify topics and community issues of interest to English Language Learners, 3) to teach English skills in context of those interests, and, 4) to motivate at least 50% of the participating learners to become more active in their communities through enhanced communication skills in reading, writing and dialogue.

To date, the Monterey Park Bruggemeyer Library has helped over 1,000 adults to become U.S. Citizens and close to 8,000 children and adults become better English speakers, readers and writers. By learning English and gaining U.S. Citizenship status, many residents significantly improve their lives, job opportunities and participation in their communities. The LAMP Literacy Program's Citizenship and English classes are so vital to many people. With all volunteer instructors and tutors, LAMP is a highly cost effective program.

In September, 2014, the LAMP Program will celebrate 30 years of providing high quality learner centered volunteer based adult literacy services with the California Library Literacy Services and other libraries around the state. We aim to further expand awareness about the need for adult literacy services in our communities, and to reach out to recruit new tutors and other volunteers. However, to assure the literacy program's proper function of services to the community, adequate funds for support for staff and administrative costs must be maintained.
